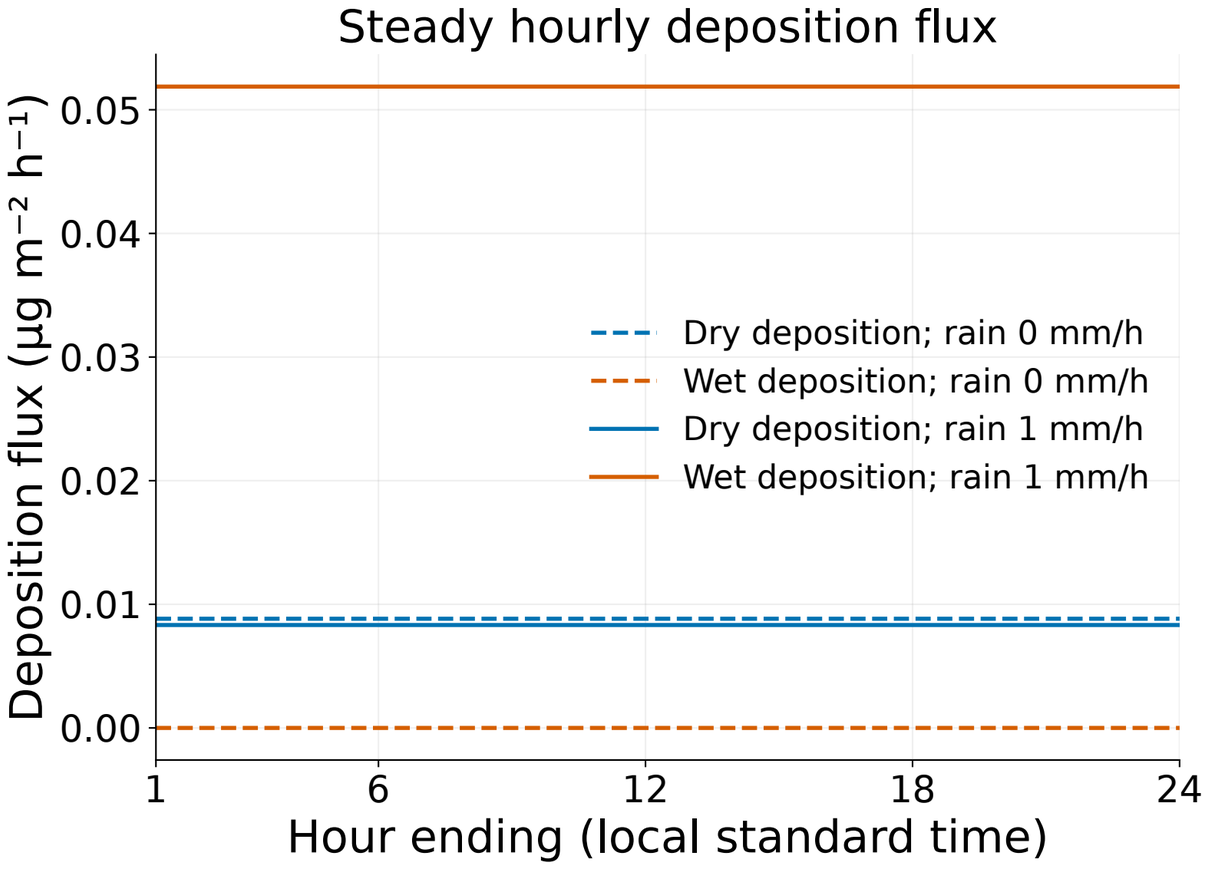
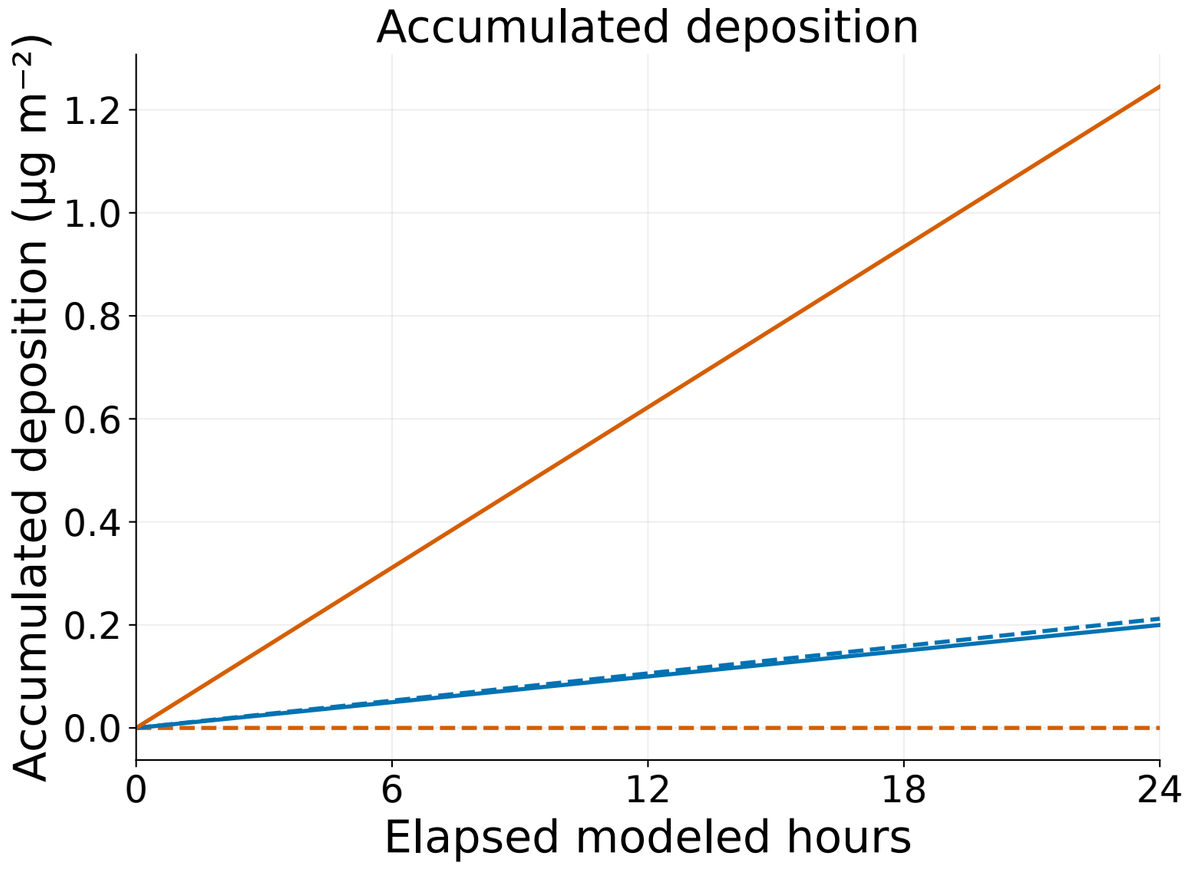
Controlled Clemson plume: 2 m s^{-1}, receptor 1 km east of source





Constant forcing produces constant hourly flux; accumulated deposition increases with duration.
Dry deposition also occurs during rain. Controlled simulation; see the accompanying methods for assumptions.